The End.

- The course of the weariest river Emls in the great, gray sea ; The scorn, forever and ever.
- Strives upward to the tree ; The rainbow, the sky adorning, Shines promise through the storm
- The glimmer of coming morning Through midnight gloom will form;
- By time all knots are riven, Complex although they be,
- And peace will at last be given, Dear, both to you and me.
- Then, though the path may be dreary, Look owward to the coal -
- Though the heart and the head be weary. Let faith inspire the soul. Seek the right, though the wrong be tempting ;
- Speak truth at any cost : Vain is all weak exempting
- When once the gem is lost. Let strong hand and keen eye be ready
- For plain and ambushed foes: Thought earnest and fancy steady
- Bear best unto the close. The heavy clouds may be raining,
- But with evening comes the light ; Through the dark low winds complaining
- Yet the sunrise gilds the hight; And love has his hidden treasure
- For the patient and the pure ; And Time gives his full measure To the workers who endure ;
- And the Word the me law has ons sen Has the future pledge supplied : For we know that when we "awaken We shall be " satisfied."

Among its predictions for the year 1879, the New York Graphic gives the following: "Colonel Bob Ingersell will be converted by Mr. Moody, and will conduct a series of revival meetings at Ocean Grove." A religious contemporary adds : " We predict that at the same time Bob is revivaling at Ocean Grove Moody's partner, Sankey, will be engaged as an Ethiopian minstrel in a Chicago dive."

They were playing a game of cuchre together, when she casually remarked: "So you take my heart, do you?" "Why, certainly; jes," replied he, hurriedly glancing into her eyes. And the game was up. [Cards of course.]

John B. Gough, in a lecture in England, referring to the question whether alcohol was a food or a medicine, remarked that in his opinion it was " very much like sitting down on a hornet's nest -stimulating but not nourishing."

It is said that in London it is not a very uncommon thing to find yourself riding in a handsome cab driven by a broken-down lawyer, a retired doctor, or even a played-out lord. A part of this story will do for the marines only. Nobody else could be made to believe that an English lord or any other sort of lord, no matter how thoroughly played-out he might be, would rather drive a cab for a living than marry an American heiress with an annual income of half a million, knowing how marvelously easy it is for him to do so .- Louisville Courier-Journal.

HE QUALIFIED .- In Augusta, Me., no provision has been made the present winter for feeding and lodging tramps. A vagabond went into a police station and wanted to sleep there.

"We only lodge prisoners," said the sergeant behind the desk. "You only lodge prisoners?" repeated the vagabond meditatively.

"That's all," was the reply; "you have got to steal something, or assault somebody, or something of that kind."

"I've got to assault somebody, or something of that kind," again repeated the vagabond, thoughtfully. Then he reached across the desk with his right arm, and knocked the sergeant off his stool, saying, as the officer got up with his hand to his eye: "Give me as good a bed as you kin, sergeant, 'cause I don't feel very well to-

RICHNESS BOTH WAYS .- He had been sitting still so long that the mother expected to find him asleep, when she looked around and asked : "Well, Harry, what are you thinking of?"

"Ma, are we very rich?" he solemnly inquired, by way of reply. "In one way we are," she said ; "your father says he values me at three million dollars, you at two millions, and the baby at one." That closed the conversation on that subject, but next morning as Harry was getting on his overcoat, he examined the new patch which had been added, and coolly observed : "Well, I think father had better sell off about half of you or the whole of the baby and get the
